

UCSB Sociology Colloquium Series

DR.
LEISY ABREGO

Immigrant ~~Assimilation~~ Life:
Salvadoran Displacement and Determination

Resisting traditional assimilation frameworks in U.S. sociology based on metrics of whiteness, this talk centers immigrants' inner worlds and intimate experiences. Rooted in the history of Salvadoran migration to the United States and in the questions that braid conversations across generations, this talk will consider how migrants were displaced from their homes and how they persist in new lands.

Professor of Chicana/o
and Central American Studies, UCLA

Monday, October 19, 2026
12:00-1:30 PM
SSMS 3145